CHAMPION OF YOUTH HAS 6 CHILDREN

Dr. Edward Sydney Woods, Bishop of Lichfield, will be the next Bishop of London. No official announcement has yet been made, but it is understood that Dr. Woods has already been selected to succeed 80-year-old Dr. A. F. Winnington-Ingram, who will retire next year.

Dr. Woods, tall, 60 years old, has been in Lichfield little more than a year. Before his election to that city in July, 1937, he was Bishop Suffragan of Croydon.

He is a film fan. He advocated the restricted Sunday opening of cinemas, and in 1922, in face of strong opposition, pioneered the Croydon experiment of Sunday opening.

BUT HE OPPOSED THE SHOWING OF GANGSTER AND SEX FILMS, AND WELCOMED HISTORICAL ROMANCES, SCIENCE, AND TRAVEL DOCUMEN-TARIES.

"Many boys and girls who now roam the streets in idleness and possibly get into mischief," he said, "would be better employed in seeing such films."

BISHOP'S KHAKI SHORTS

The Unconventional Bishop, as he is called, has six children and is a champlon of young people.

"Behind the unabashed goings-on of young people," he said on one occasion, "is a sincerity and lack of pretence which Victorianism never achieved."

Dr. Woods once attended the King's boys' camp at Southwold. He turned up in khaki shorts and open-necked shirt.

"Although you may not credit it," he said at luncheon, "I really am a Care Bishop, I was considerably exer-cised in my mind as to what would NAVY INCREASED be the right kit to come in.

DURBIN FANS! DEANNA

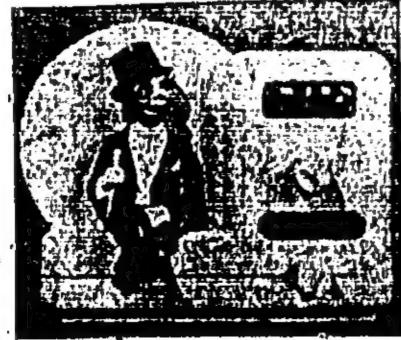

Here's an opportunity to win a beautiful miniature Charlie McCarthy (Majestic) Radio. The rules are quite simple and the competition is open to everyone. The idea is, to send in your definition of "That Certain Age" with a limit of twenty words including the title. Each entry must be accompanied by the stub of an admission ticket purchased at either the Queen's or Alhambra during the engagement of THAT CERTAIN AGE. Each ticket stub entitles you to one entry in the competition. The smartest and snappiest definition wins the radio. Send your entries to General Amusements Ltd., Marina House, and their judgement is final. Entries close Dec. 14, 1938.

Here are a few examples to give you the style:-

The Rhine Flows On

tions of the Franco-German Agreement, signed in Paris this week, is the statement that the Rhine no longer separates the two countries politically as it has done for centuries, but constitutes a connecting link between them.

Lasting accord between France and Germany would be one of the greatest benefits statesmen could present to civilisation, civilisation. But remembering past professions of mutual and everlasting friendship between nations, including Great Britain, will almost certainly remain sceptical. If this scepticism remains in the hearts of the German and French peoples, the pact is fore-doomed.

The world will hope that this latest step towards appeasement will establish a new era in international relations which other countries will follow.

Pirow Shows A Way

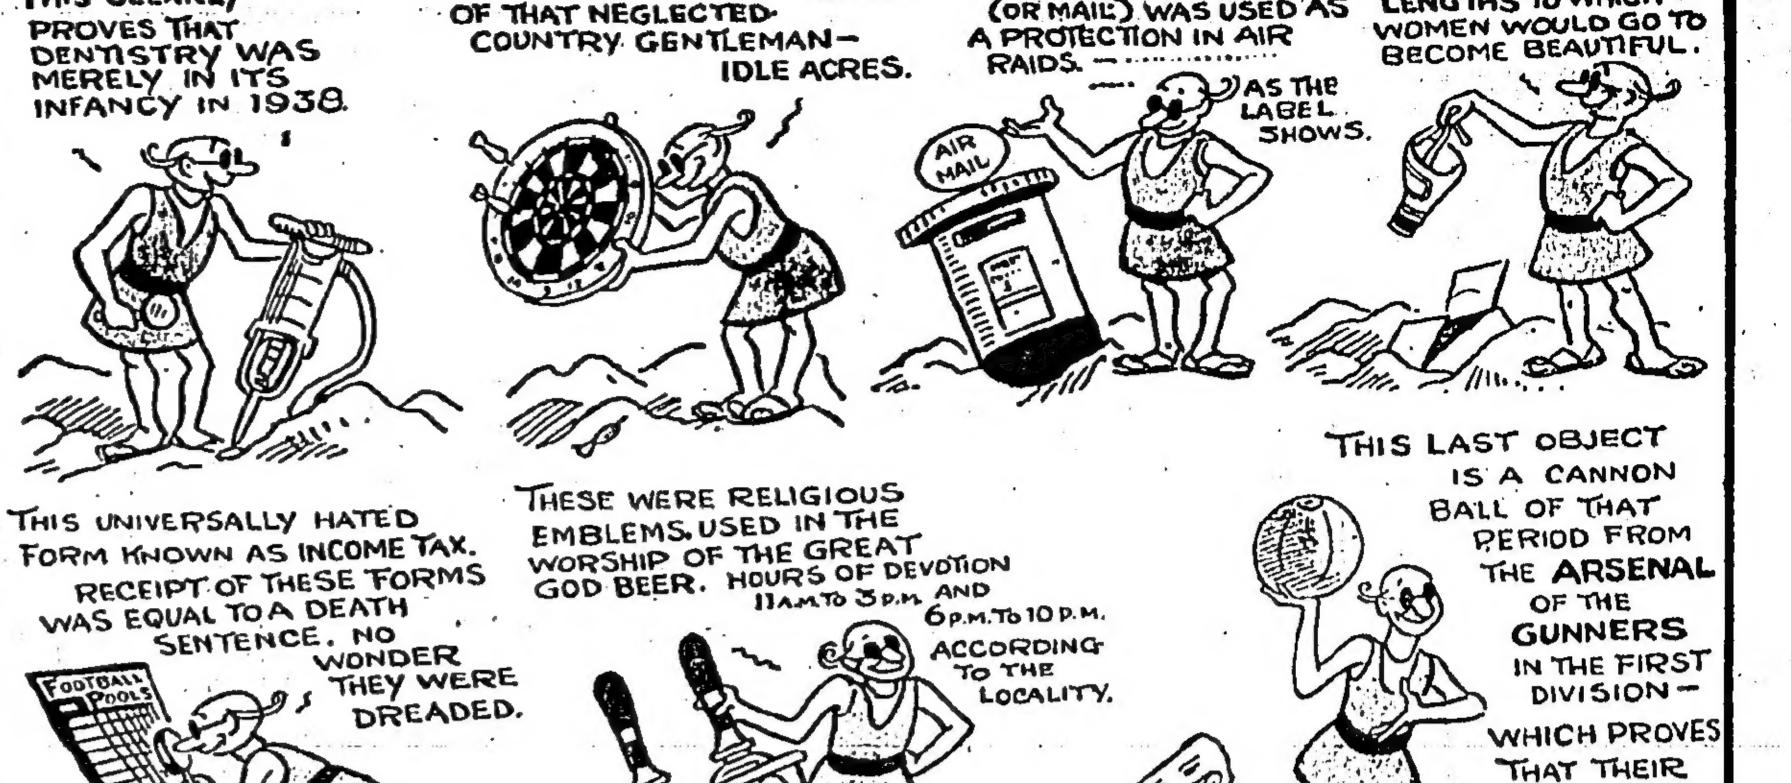

IT IS BUT a matter of weeks since Mr. Neville Chamberlain demonstrated what can be achieved in international affairs by a policy of peaceful negotiation.

That is a lesson which the world seems in danger of forgetting.

Outspoken Oswald Pirow, speaking in London yesterday, reminded us of this.

He predicted that unless complete change in prospects occurs within the next month or two, tension will reach breaking point by next spring.

The drift into war is based solely on psychological factors. It is this psychological factor the diplomats have got to break, otherwise the vicious circle of re-armament that has developed as a result of it will become a vortex that will swallow civilisation.

This particular scheme, which emanated from the Dundee hairdressing shop of fifty-one-yearold Mrs. Jessie Jordan, has hit the front page in the way a spy trial does every few years.

Yet as long as there is a rearmament race nations will continue to back espionage with some hundreds of thousands of pounds each year.

THE estimated cost to Britain, this year, for this particular form of service is £450,000, but the precautionary measures made necessary by the crisis advanced this amount by something like £1,000,000. In 1934 the total cost was £180,-

The greatest feat in the history of the British Secret Sers vice was its great round-up of German agents in 1914 which prevented the German General Staff from hearing of the arrival in France of Sir John French and his expeditionary force.

This triumph was engineered by the military section of the Secret Service, which has its permanent home on the second floor of the War Office. Experts in room 40B at the Admiralty, the other nerve centre of the Service, might, if they were allowed to, claim this distinction for those of their staff who broke the U-boat blockade.

UNKNOWN WARRIOR TO HAVE NEW TOMB

Perpetual Flame In Abbey

UNVEILING YEAR

The Unknown Warrior, buried "among the kings" in Westminster Abbey, under a simple black stone, is to rest beneath a new and far more stately monument.

That inconspicuous stone, above which have bent in homage multitudes from the world over, has for some time been accounted too humble a covering for the symbol of the nation's greatest sacrifice.

During the past few years many strangers, who have come from afar as pilgrims to the shrine, have passed it unaware and have had to be directed to it by the vergers. DESIGN COMPLETED

Now the Dean and Chapter of the Abbey, in concert with the Imperial War Graves Commission, have decided to raise a worthy memorial upon the tomb of the man, "unknown by name or rank," who was "brought from France to lie-among the most illustrious of the land."

DEFENCE SPEED-UP IN KENYA

Speaking in the Legislature re-cently, the Governor of Kenya, Air Chief Marshal Sir Robert Brooke-Popham, said that the recent inter-national crisis had shown that the Colony's organisation for defence was based on a sound foundation.

Sir Robert admitted that the organisation was incomplete and needed speeding up, but it was found that the only new body required last month was a woman's emergency corps. All organisations which had been created to meet the emergency were to be retained, and instructions were being issued so that in future the machinery could be put into operation immediately.

The intelligence system would be improved and an A.R.P. organisation of man and woman power, but evacuation of civilians will not be provided for.

Budget Estimates.—The Budget estimates for 1939 show a small surplus without new taxation, this being chiefly due to the buoyancy of income-tax returns. The Governor announced that the Government proposed to examine the possibility of establishing secondary industries. CANADA

Mr. J. L. Hsley, Minister of National Revenue, says that there is no evidence to show that the company acted in anything but good taith when it applied for permits for exporting the machines to Turkey.

Bills of lading and other docu-

German Aspirations Rouse Labour Party

LONDON, Dec. 7.

BRITAIN'S COLONIAL FOLICY was discussed in the House of Commons this evening, when Mr. Noel Baker (Lab.) recalled the "brutal frankness" of Herr Hitler's claim that the former German colonies should be returned.

The claim, made at Munich shortly after the Four-Power Conference, was that the colonies must be returned without exception, without condiwithout a mandate system, and without delay.

By Article 119 of the Versailles Treaty, Germany renounced all her rights and titles over her former overseas possessions, and in law, that article was absolutely decisive.

NEW BISHOP OF LONDON IS A FILM FAN Lichfield's Dr. Woods Advocates Sunday Shows

HAS 6 CHILDREN

Dr. Edward Sydney Woods, Bishop of Lichfield, will be the next Bishop of London. No official announcement has yet been made, but it is understood that Dr. Woods has already been selected to succeed 80-year-old Dr. A. F. Winnington-Ingram, who will retire next year.

Dr. Woods, tall, 60 years old, has been in Lichfield little more than a year. Before his election to that city in July, 1937, he was Bishop Suffragan of Croydon.

He is a film fan. He advocated the restricted Sunday opening of cinemas, and in 1922, in face of strong opposition, pioneered the Croydon experiment of Sunday opening.

BUT HE OPPOSED THE SHOWING OF GANGSTER AND SEX FILMS, AND WELCOMED HISTORICAL ROMÂNCES, SCIENCE, AND TRAVEL DOCUMEN-TARIES.

"Many boys and girls who now roam the streets in idleness and possibly get into mischief," he said, "would be better employed in seeing such films."

BISHOP'S KHAKI SHORTS'

The Unconventional Bishop, as he is called, has six children and is a champion of young people.

"Behind the unabashed goings-on of young people," he said on one occasion, "is a sincerity and lack of pretence which Victorianism never achieved."

The Duke and Duchess of Windsor, and M. Sarraut, French Minister of the Interior, were among the 200 guests who attended a "surprise wedding" reception given in Paris recently by Mr. R. A. Shayes, the English Davis Cup lawn tennis

The bride was formerly Miss Queenle Hargreaves, daughter of Dr. H. Stanley Hargreaves, a well-known Paris dental surgeon.

Mr. and Mrs. Shayes were secretly married last August, the reason being that Mr. Shayes was due to go on a lawn tennis tour, and to have announced it, he explained, would have upset his plans.

The Duke and Duchess of Windsor met numerous other friends among the guests, who included members of the British Legion.

Returning to his bungalow, John James Stephens, of Belgrave-road, High Crumpsall, found the gate scraped and freshly painted.

GOVERNMENT DEFINES ITS POSITION

London, Dec. 7. important statement on colonies was made by Mr. Malcolin MacDonald in the House of Commons this evening, replying to the debate motion by Mr. Noel Baker that no re-distribution of colonial or mandated territory be made without the consent of the inhabitants, and as part of a general peace settlement, international agreements should be drawn up extending the application of the mandates to all colonies which do not receive self-government, providing equal economic opportunity for nationals of all the signatory Powers, and establishing, as a primary purpose, a colonial policy for the welfare and progress of native inhabitants. Mr. MacDonald, in reply, emphasized the uncertainty created in benture holders. The $35,000 worth the colonies and mandated territories of shares he had were taken over by by the demands now being made the receiver as collateral security regarding them, and that uncertainty and were never returned to him, must be removed.

Mr. MacDonald emphasised that we had responsibilities with regard to the people living in mandated territories. We could not regard past five years on ereditors, is not a them as mere goods and chattels, to man to whom the Bankrupey Ordinbe disposed of to others. We must pay attention to their wishes, and the wishes of the different sections of the population in those territories.

He painted out that as far as the British mandated areas were concerned, there were not only large indigenous native populations, but in some places there were also European settlers who had put their wealth in the place, and who had played a great part in the development of the territories. "In some places there were important Indian communities, and, said Mr. MacDonald, "we must recognise the right of those people to express their opinion on a question all-important to them. We must attach full weight and force to those opinions."

Mr. MacDonald also emphasised that it would be impossible for a Government to do anything with regard to this matter without the House of Commons having the fullest opportunity for discussion. LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

N.T. CAMPS

To the Editor, Hongkong Telegraph.

Sir,—A picture on the front page of your paper last night showed a truck loaded with bread, and this was described as one of the long line that went out bearing bread to "starving Refugees" in the "concentration camps" in the New Terri-

This description may give a false impression to some of your readers. There are no "concentration camps" in the New Territories. There are some camps provided by the Government and these are entered freely and not by compulsion. The Government provides food for all who are M. M. Soares and W. Lawrence in them. Apart from those in the camps there are tens of thousands of refugees being fed in an organised way by some groups of Chinese societies and by the Emergency Refugee Council, which distributes supplies to centres in need of them. Elsewhere in your paper last night there was an appeal to those who wish to help the refugees not to do it by indiscriminate distribution of bread and biscults but by working through some of the existing societies that are providing regular meals. The needs of the refugees are so great that anything like waste or overlapping is greatly to be deplored.

Warm clothing and covering are greatly needed for the refugees at the present moment. The Emergency Refugee Council is very unxious to receive gifts of quilts, blankets and warm clothes, and also of towels and soap. It will see that these things will be distributed among those who are in greatest need of them. Money spent in providing them will be of greater help to the refugees than if it is used in purchasing bread and

Murderess Goes To Electric Chair

Columbus, Ohlo, Dec. 7. Only a few hours before she was due to go to the electric chair, lawyers made a final attempt to save the life of the 31, year-old German Mrs. Anna Hahn, convicted of murder in the first degree.

As a last legal step counsel sought u writ mandamus in the Federal Court contending that she had not been given a proper opportunity to defend herself.

The writ, however, was refused at the last moment

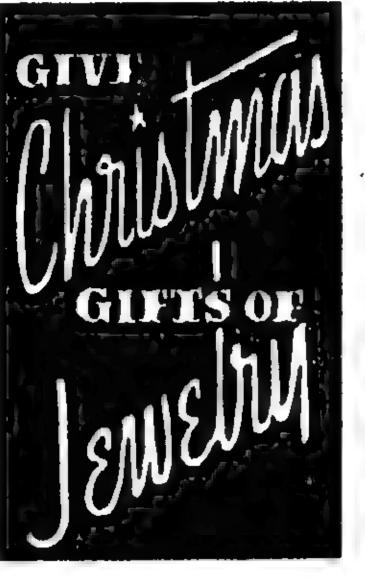

Mrs. Hahn was in a pitiable state all day long, and her condition was so critical that a doctor was summoned to administer her spirits of ammonia and black coffee.

She was found guilty 13 months ago of the murder of Jacob Wagner, a retired gardener.

A later message says that Mrs. Hahn was electrocuted .- Reuter. PITIFUL LAST SCENE

Columbus, Ohlo, Dec. 7. Mrs. Hahn went to the chair wearing blue pyjamas, She mumbled appeals as she stumbled towards the door of the execution chamber, then collapsed, and was picked up by guards, who carried her to the chair, As the guards fixed the straps she shouted to the warden: "Don't do it. Think of my boy", then pleadingly she stretched her arms towards the witnesses crying. "Will nobody help me?"-Reuter.

FIREWOOD PRICES

Macao Ban Causing Hardships

Firewood, which over 05 per cent. of Hongkong's population use as their principal fuel, has jumped up considerably in price due to prithe Chinese Government C.N.C. marily to the war and secondarily to a recent ban on its export by the Portuguese authorities in Macao.

Depends on Singapore

With the supply from Kwangtung stopped Hongkong now depends almost solely on Singapore and Sandakan for firewood. Unfortunately the imports from these two cities are said to be insufficient to meet local demands, which a dealer placed yesterday at about 300,000 piculs a month. It is said that firewood can be obtained in Singapore at over 100 cattles per dollar (Hongkong money) and the only difficulty seems to be transportation,

Here's an opportunity to win a beautiful miniature Charlie McCarthy (Majestic) Radio. The rules are quite simple and the competition is open to everyone. The idea is, to send in your definition of "That Certain Age" with a limit of twenty words including the title. Each entry must be accompanied by the stub of an admission ticket purchased at either the Queen's or Alhambra during the engagement of THAT CERTAIN AGE. Each ticket stub entitles you to one entry in the competition. The smartest and snappiest definition wins the radio. Send your entries to General Amusements Ltd., Marina House, and their judgement is final. Entries close Dec. 14, 1938.

Here are a few examples to give you the style:---

The Rhine Flows On

SYMBOLIC of the ramifications of the Franco-German Agreement, signed in Paris this week, is the statement that the Rhine no longer separates the two countries politically as it has done for centuries, but constitutes a connecting link between them.

between Lasting accord France and Germany would be one of the greatest benefits statesmen could present to civilisation. But civilisation, remembering past professions of mutual and everlasting friendship between nations, including Great Britain, will almost certainly remain sceptical. If this scepticism remains in the hearts of the German and French peoples, the pact is fore-doomed.

The world will hope that this latest step towards appeasement will establish a new era in international relations which other countries will follow.

Pirow Shows A Way

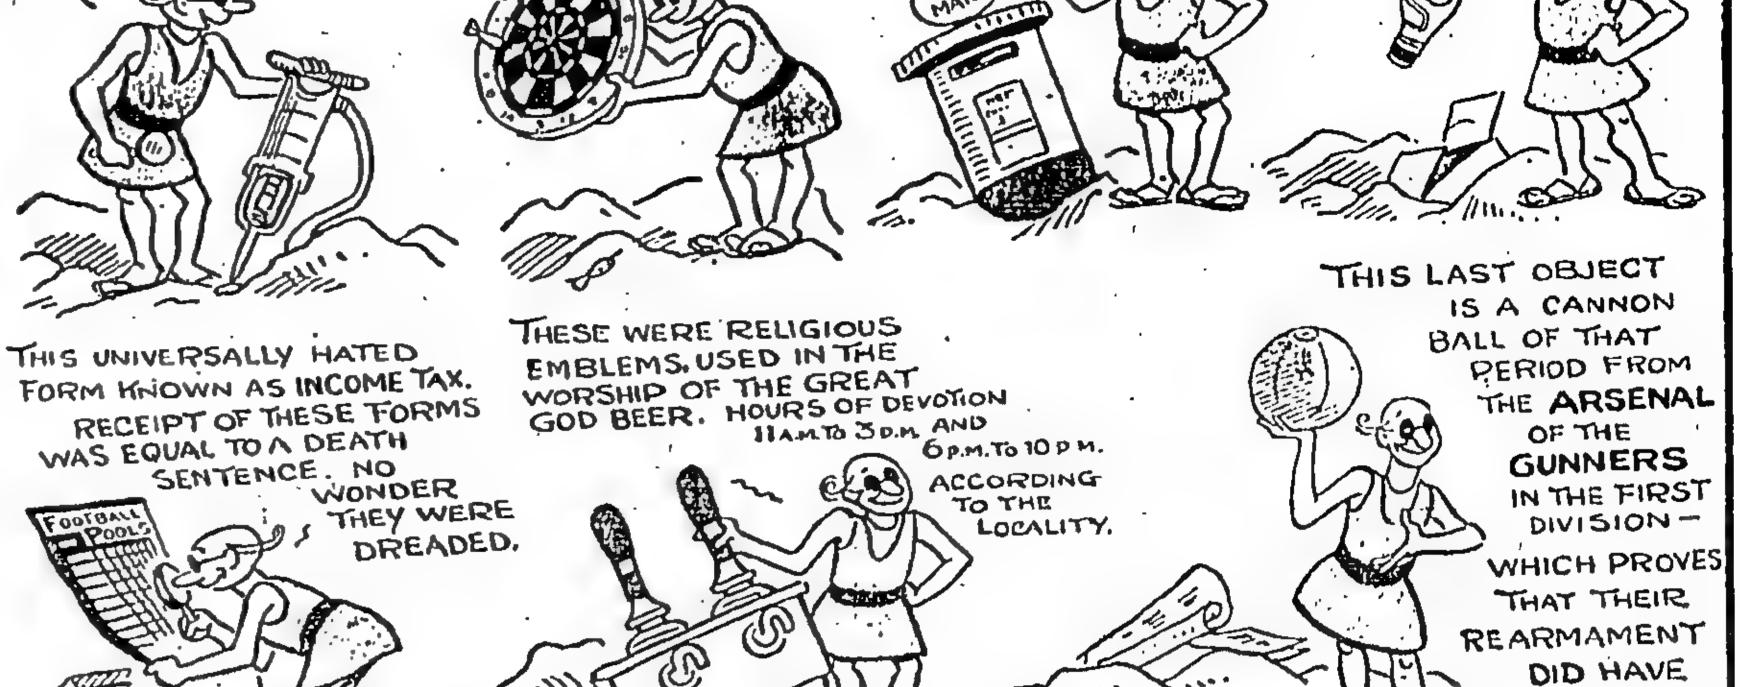

IT IS BUT a matter of weeks since Mr. Neville Chamberlain demonstrated what can be achieved in international affairs by a policy of peaceful negotiation.

That is a lesson which the world seems in danger of forgetting.

Outspoken Oswald Pirow, speaking in London yesterday, reminded us of this.

He predicted that unless a complete change in prospects occurs within the next month or two, tension will reach breaking point by next spring.

The drift into war is based solely on psychological factors. It is this psychological factor the diplomats have got to break, otherwise the vicious circle of re-armament that has developed as a result of it will become a vortex that will swallow civilisation.

This particular scheme, which emanated from the Dundee hairdressing shop of fifty-one-yearold Mrs. Jessie Jordan, has hit the front page in the way a spy trial does every few years.

Yet as long as there is a rearmament race nations will continue to back espionage, with some hundreds of thousands of pounds each year.

THE estimated cost to Britain, this year, for this particular form of service is £450,000, but the precautionary measures made necessary by the crisis advanced this amount by something like £1,000,000. In 1934 the total cost was £180,-

The greatest feat in the history of the British Secret Service was its great round-up of German agents in 1914 which prevented the German General Staff from hearing of the arrival in France of Sir John French and his expeditionary force.

This triumph was engineered by the military section of the Secret Service, which has its permanent home on the second floor of the War Office. Experts in room 40B at the Admiralty, the other nerve centre of the Service, might, if they were allowed to, claim this distinction for those of their staff who broke the U-boat blockade.

The War Office section scored again when they supplied the first clue which led to this present exposure of the German spy net-work in the United States. They purposely delayed the arrest of Mrs. Jessie Jordan from November 1937 until March this year, when G-man Leon Turrou had traced in America the persons who were transmitting their information to Germany through Mrs. Jordan's hairdressing par-

UNKNOWN WARRIOR TO HAVE NEW TOMB

Perpetual Flame In Abbey

UNVEILING NEXT YEAR

The Unknown Warrior, buried "among the kings" in Westminster Abbey, under a simple black stone, is to rest beneath a new and far more stately monument.

That inconspicuous stone, above which have bent in homage multitudes from the world over, has for some time been accounted too humble a covering for the symbol of the nation's greatest sacrifice.

During the past few years many strangers, who have come from afar as pilgrims to the shrine, have passed it unaware and have had to be directed to it by the vergers.

DESIGN COMPLETED

Now the Dean and Chapter of the Abbey, in concert with the Imperial War Graves Commission, have decided to raise a worthy memorial upon the tomb of the man, "unknown by name or rank," who was "brought from France to lie among the most illustrious of the land."

The advice of distinguished artists flame-perpetually,

This flame will symbolise all that is eternal in mankind—the spirit of courage, of faith, of willing sacrifice, of dauntless hope.

There, in a notice alcove, the flame will gleam through the arches of the years—a sacred signal to all generations of the British race,

DEFENCE SPEED-UP IN KENYA

Speaking in the Legislature recently, the Governor of Kenya, Air Chief Marshal Sir Robert Brooke-Popham, said that the recent inter-national crisis had shown that the Colony's organisation for defence was based on a sound foundation.

Sir Robert admitted that the organisation was incomplete and organisation was incomplete and needed speeding up, but it was found that the only new body required last month was a woman's emergency corps. All organisations which had been created to meet the emergency were to be retained, and instructions were being issued so that in future the machinery could be put into operation immediately. operation immediately.

FORGED ORDERS FOR 'PLANES

Forged orders, purporting to come from the Turkish Government, have resulted in 34 aeroplanes, manufactured by the Canadian Car and Foundry Company of Fort William, being delivered to the Spanish Government authorities. Such shipments to Spain are prohibited by Order in Council.

Mr. J. L. Hsley, Minister of National Revenue, says that there is no evidence to show that the company acted in anything but good faith when it applied for permits for exporting the machines to Turkey. Bills of lading and other documents were in order, and no suspicion was aroused until information

SCHOOLS ONLY JUST ESCAPE DEFEAT

SPLENDID CRICKET WITNESSED

(By "R. Abbit")

It was with great pleasure that · I found that the Combined Schools game, long run by G. R. Sayer, had been taken over by , H. Owen Hughes, and yesterday I was fortunate enough to manage to see the match. It was a perfect day, sunny-though not too hot-with a fresh northeasterly breeze, and Owen Hughes had gathered an excellent team against the schoolboys.

Besides himself, he had A. el Arculli, Donald Anderson, H. R. B. Hancock, R. H. Griffiths, R. E. Lee, D. McLellan, Alec Pearce, A. E. Perry, A. Warr and F. Zimmern, It was a pretty strong team but there are some particularly good players among the schools this year and l was anxious to see how some of the 'reputations' would come off.

THE SCHOOLS

The D.B.S. had F. J. Lay, D. Crary, D. Hutchinson, J. Fisher, and J. L. Young aye (the captain); Central British had C. Hosegood, N. Smith, W. Pryde, and T. Sulter. La Salle were represented by G. and J. Gerano and Queen's College by Naranjan Singh.

Saves London From Anthrax

Working on a single clue, public health authorities have saved London from a possible epidemic of anthrax, deadly disease usually transmitted through animal hair.

Mrs. Hazel Buchholtz recently went into a Los Angeles court clad only in a bathrobe. When Court Commissioner E. D. Doyle demanded to know what it was all about, the woman charged that her husband, Richard Orville Buchholtz, restaurant owner, took her clothes when they separated in September. UNLY TRANSIT PERMITS

BY SWITZERLAND Berne, Dec. 7. The President of the Swiss Confederation, Dr. Baumann, in his capa-elty as Federal Councillor for Justice British Ship and the Police, made a declaration to-day before the National Council concerning conditions for the admission of foreign Jews Into Switzerland.

The President emphasised the standpoint already taken by the Council, that, owing alike to unem-ployment and the excessive number of foreign refugees in the country, Switzerland henceforth could only be the land of transit for Jewish and other foreign refugees.

President Baumann estimated that the number of destitute Jewish refugees who had come to Switzerland in July and August last was about 2,300, and he added that some 200 more had entered the country since These destitute refugees were looked after by the Swiss Jewish organi- October, when it was under fire off

BERLIN, Dec. 7. It is stated in usually wellinformed political circles here that the newly-appointed Chinese Ambassador, Mr. Chen Chie, will be received, in the course of next week, by Chancellor Hitler, to whom he will present his credentials.

CORRECTION

Our attention has been drawn to a slight error which appeared in our interview with the Postmaster General in yesterday's issue. It was stated that a penny is reckoned to be equal to 30 gold centimes and that as near as makes no difference, is 30 cents Hongkong money,

We are informed that a penny is reckoned by the London Post Office to equal 10 gold centimes so that if there is a deficiency of a 14d on a letter this doubled equals '30 gold | left but a bunch of shirted gangsters." centimes and that, as near as makes no difference, is 30 cents Hongkong

At the first hint of an emergency the plan will be put into immediate operation.

Miles of trenches will be dug throughout the built-up areas of the island and mainland.

Arrangements have already been completed for this work, even to the extent of approaching contractors and revealing to them where the excavations will be necessary.

Practically every spare land in the residential and business areas will be utilised. Trenches will be dug in parks, sports grounds and school grounds. Vacant allotments will also be used.

Mass evacuation of civilians to safe areas in the New Territories is also a probability, and is now under discussion. Women and children, naturally, would be the first to be moved if the plan is put into operation.

HIS WIFE'S CAR

Are they here to-day?-No. My wife is not on trial here.

Sometime last year you purchased a car?—No.

Look here, Mr. Pasco, I am prepared to go to the box myself and say that I saw you driving a car. You still say you have not got one?

-1 have not. Mr. Remedios: I have a statement here showing the car was purchased by Mrs. Pasco. His Lordship: Driving a car doesn't mean he owns it. I have driven cars belonging to my friends. Mr. Brooks: In that case, I am wrong there. Anyway, your wife has a car?-Yes. you, in case of creditors, doesn't it?

-I suppose so. When did your wife buy that car'. -I don't know. I think it was the beginning of this year. Is that the first car she bought,-

Yes. It was bought through Mr Morgenstern. Where did you usually go for lunch?-Var.ous places, including the

This concluded the evidence. Mr. Remedios contended that the petition should be granted as Pasco's conduct in the Court had been nothing else but honesty itself. He had been felling the truth throughout, and as regards the other liabilities not menfloned the reason was because they concerned only himself.

His Lordship refused the petition. TWO OTHER PETITIONS

Two other similar petitions were brought by Alberto Jose Castro and Makhan Singh, both of which were granted. Castro told the Court that his total liabilities were $1,324 and assets

$50. He offered to pay $15 a month out of a salary of $170. In answer to His Lordship, Castro said that he was in the hands of money-lenders and was at present paying three instalments totalling

Harem Named As Divorce Co-Respondent

TURIN, Dec. 6. SIGNORA RINA GIOR-DANO has named a harem as co-respondent in seeking divorce from her husband, Ornzio.

Soon after they were married in 1919, Glordano's business took him to Hedjaz. When letters and her monthly allowance stopped, Signora Giordano went to Hedjaz and caught her husband in a harem he had established with full oriental splendour after conversion to Mohammedanism. Signora Giordano promised not to aue so long as she received her allowance, but Orazio failed to keep his pro-

FLETTERS TO THE EDITOR

N.T. CAMPS

To the Editor, Hongkong Telegraph.

Sir,—A picture on the front page of your paper last night showed a truck loaded with bread, and this was described as one of the long line that went out bearing bread to "starving Refugees" in the "concentration camps" in the New Territories. This description may give a false impression to some of your readers. There are no "concentration camps" in the New Territories. There are some camps provided by the Government and these are entered freely and not by compulsion. The Government provides food for all who are in them. Apart from those in the camps there are tens of thousands of refugees being fed in an organised way by some groups of Chinese societies and by the Emergency Refugee Council, which distributes supplies to centres in need of them.

Elsewhere in your paper last night there was an appeal to those who wish to help the refugees not to do it by indiscriminate distribution of bread and biscuits but by working through some of the existing societies that are providing regular meals. The needs of the refugees are so great that anything like waste or overlapping is greatly to be deplored. Warm clothing and covering are greatly needed for the refugees at the present moment. The Emergency Refugee Council is very anxious to receive gifts of quilts, blankets and warm clothes, and also of towels and soap. It will see that these things will be distributed among those who are in greatest need of them. Money greater help to the refugees than if it is used in purchasing bread and

Thefts, Fraud & Attempted Suicide

To-day's Batch Of Reports To Police

Mr. Hugh of Woodside, Mount Parker Road reports that about 8.40 a.m. yesterday, money and clothing to the value of $122 was stolen from his car parked in Gap Road.

Mrs. E. Doughty of 5, Jubilee Apartments, Austin Avenue, reports that at 2.15 p.m. yesterday an Eurosian called at her house and informed, her that he was authorised to collect old clothing and goods for the refugees in Fanling Camp. She gave him some goods but later found out that the man in question had no such authority.

Mr. Lau Yau-hum, of 67, Ewo Hill Street reports that between 9.30 a.m. on December 6 and 7 a.m. yesterday, some one entered his house and store clothing to the value of $147.

Mr. Mui Foo of No. 2. Sau Wah Fong has made a report to the police that some time between 2 and 2.30 p.m. yesterday, while he was travelling on a tram car between the Eastern and Central district, some one stole from his pocket money and jewellery valued at $373.

Mr. E. A. Saubert of Messrs. Jardine Matheson and Company, Lid. reports that between 5.15 p.m. and midnight on Tuesday, a radiator cap was stolen from his car, parked in a side lane in Pedder Street.

A Chinese woman, Lee Wan-chee was admitted to the Queen Mary Hospital yesterday suffering from an overdose of opium. It is believed that she consumed the opium while in a room which she had engaged in the New Asia Hotel, Des Vocux Road Central.

An unemployed male Chinese, Leung Kit, 27, was admitted to the Queen Mary Hospital yesterday after he had been found hanging in a cockloft at 606, Queen's Road West, in an alleged attempt to commit suicide.

CORRECTION

Our attention has been drawn to a slight error which appeared in our interview with the Postmaster General in yesterday's issue. It was stated that a penny is reckoned to be equal to 30 gold centimes and that, us near as makes no difference, is 30 cents Hongkong money.

We are informed that a penny is reckoned by the London Post Office to equal 10 gold centimes so that if there is a deficiency of a 14d on a letter this doubled equals 30 gold centimes and that, as near as makes. no difference, is 30 cents Hongkong

It should also be explained that no letters of any kind should be enclosed in a parcel, a Christmas card containing no more than four words may, however, be enclosed, ... - ... -

Here's an opportunity to win a beautiful miniature Charlie McCarthy (Majestic) Radio. The rules are quite simple and the competition is open to everyone. The idea is, to send in your definition of "That Certain Age" with a limit of twenty words including the title. Each entry must be accompanied by the stub of an admission ticket purchased at either the Queen's or Alhambra during the engagement of THAT CERTAIN AGE. Each ticket stub entitles you to one entry in the competition. The smartest and snapplest definition wins the radio. Send your entries to General Amusements Ltd., Marina House, and their judgement is final. Entries close Dec. 14, 1938.

Here are a few examples to give you the style:——

"That Cortain Ago" is when a girl starts letting down her dresses and picking up new ideas.

"That Certain Age" is when we start thinking "Mom" and "Pop" are old fashioned. "That Certain Age" is when a girl starts thinking of a certain boy as "that certain boy."

The Rhine Flows On

SYMBOLIC of the ramifications of the Franco-German Agreement, signed in Paris this week, is the statement that the Rhine no longer separates the two countries politically as it has done for centuries, but constitutes a connecting link between them.

Lasting accord between France and Germany would be one of the greatest benefits statesmen could present to civilisation, civilisation. But remembering past professions mutual and everlasting friendship between nations, including Great Britain, will almost certainly remain sceptical. If this scepticism remains in the hearts of the German and French peoples, the pact is fore-doomed.

The world will hope that this latest step towards appeasement will establish a new era in international relations which other countries will follow.

Pirow Shows A Way

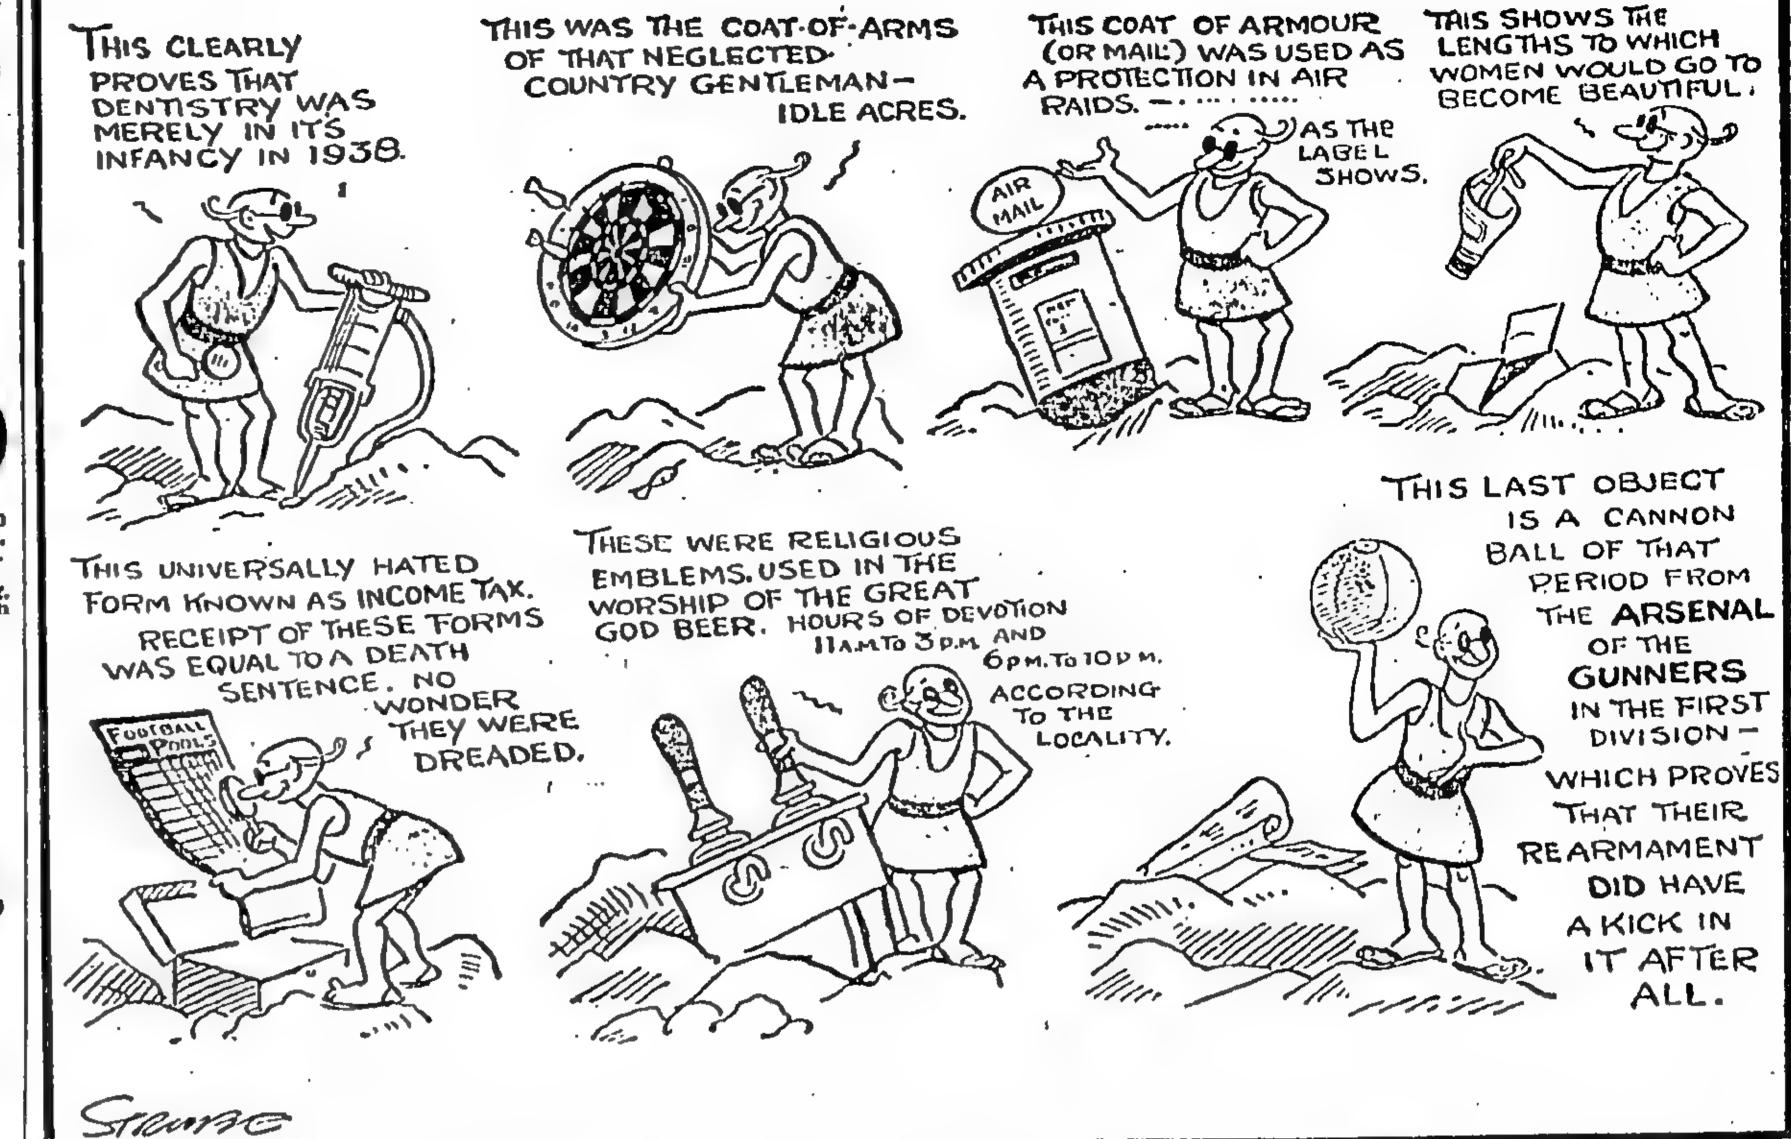

IT IS BUT a matter of weeks since Mr. Neville Chamberlain demonstrated what can be achieved in international affairs by a policy of peaceful negotiation.

That is a lesson which the world seems in danger of forgetting.

Outspoken Oswald Pirow, speaking in London yesterday, reminded us of this.

He predicted that unless complete change in prospects occurs within the next month or two, tension will reach breaking point by next spring.

The drift into war is based solely on psychological factors. It is this psychological factor the diplomats have got to break, otherwise the vicious circle of re-armament that has developed as a result of it will become a vortex that will swallow civilisation.

If it had been little less ambitious the plot would probably discovered.

This particular scheme, which, emanated from the Dundee hairdressing shop of fifty-one-yearold Mrs. Jessie Jordan, has hit the front page in the way a spy trial does every few years.

Yet as long as there is a rearmament race nations will continue to back espionage with some hundreds of thousands of pounds each year.

THE estimated cost to Britain, this year, for this particular form of service is £450,000, but the precautionary measures made necessary by the crisis advanced this amount by something like £1,000,000. In 1934 the total cost was £180,-

> The greatest feat in the history of the British Secret Service was its great round-up of German agents in 1914 which prevented the German General Staff from hearing of the arrival in France of Sir John French and his expeditionary force.

This triumph was engineered by the military section of the Secret Service, which has its permanent home on the second floor of the War Office. Experts in room 40B at the Admiralty, the other nerve centre of the Service, might, if they were allowed to, claim this distinction for those of their staff who broke the U-boat blockade. The War Office section scored again when they supplied the first clue which led to this present exposure of the German spy net-work in the United States. HELEN VINSON SUES FRED PERRY FOR DIVORCE

CHARGES MENTAL CRUELTY

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 7.

A SENSATION has been created in the Hollywood movie kingdom and the tennis world by the announcement that Helen Vinson, well-known actress, has sucd her husband, Fred Perry, former world's tennis champion, for

It is stated that she charged Perry with extreme cruelty. "He curses me frequently," she alleges in her petition.-United Press.

Perry, thrice Wimbledon champion, and in 1935 undisputed champlon tennis player of the world, married Helen Vinson, who has been seen in several pictures in Hongkong, in the autumn of 1935, after he had won the Wimbledon title for the second successive year, and had helped Bri-tain to retain the Davis Cup for another year.

In October they had to separate when Perry left to fulfil tennis engagements in Australia. They were not re-united, until January, 1936, when Perry returned to England where his wife was playing in the British film "His Majesty's Pyjamas". When that was completed they took an extended holiday in Spain as Perry had strained himself while playing tennis. Afterwards they returned to America and established a home in Hollywood, Helen Vinson continuing to make films, and Perry starting on professional tennis tours with Vines and Tilden.

THEIR CAREERS Helen Vinson, who is 30 years of age, was born at Beaumont, Texas, and even during her university career she showed marked ability as an actress, a profession she proceeded to adopt after completing her educational studies.

She owed much to the fact that she played a leading role opposite Charles Laughton in "Fatal Alibi," for Hollywood took notice of her and thereafter she made several films in quick succession.

Prison For Selling Child

Man And Woman As Go-Betweens In Transaction

Sentence of six months' hard labour was imposed on Ho Mui, 22, unemployed, and Yuen Chan, 24, a kept woman, after they had pleaded guilty to a charge of taking part in a transaction of a minor, before Mr. Q. A. A. Mac-fadyen at the Kowloon Magistracy this morning.

Mr. Macfadyen said that although they had not been in the Colony very long, he still considered the offence a serious one. As apart from sedling the child which was against the law here, the fact that there were no go-betweens, and his family had not been consulted, were facts which moderate north-east winds will conwere also taken into consideration by | tinue.

Inspector E. G. Post of the Sccretarial for Chinese Affairs, said that both defendants came to Hongkong six weeks ago from Sheklung, bringing a three-year-old child with them.
Second defendant was kept by Ho wife at Sheklung. The two defendants made several efforts to dispose of the boy after arriving in Hongkong. Ho had taken the boy with him when he visited his mother, brother and sister at Temple Street, but two weeks ago he paid his people another visit without the child. He was questioned about this, and he told them he had sent the boy back to its mother in Sheklung. This was discovered to be untrue when some villagers arrived in Hongkong from Sheklung, and a report was made to the Yaumati Police Station by first defendant's mother on December 6.

The child was later discovered abandoned in the Yaumati Public Square by a district watchman and taken to the Station.

ESCAPE DEFEAT

SPLENDID CRICKET WITNESSED

(By "R. Abbit")

It was with great pleasure that I tound that the Combined Schools game, long run by G. R. Sayer, had been taken over by H. Owen Hughes, and yesterday was fortunate enough to manage to see the match. It was a perfect day, sunny-though not too hot-with a fresh northeasterly breeze, and Owen Hughes had gathered an excellent team against the schoolboys.

Besides himself, he had A. el Arculli, Dónald Anderson, H. R. B. Hancock, R. H. Griffiths, R. E. Lee, D. McLellan, Alec Pearce, A. E. Perry, A. Warr and F. Zimmern. It was a pretty strong team but there are some particularly good players among the schools this year and was anxious to see how some of the 'reputations' would come off.

THE SCHOOLS

The D.B.S. had F. J. Lay, D. Crary, D. Hutchinson, J. Fisher, and J. L. Youngsaye (the captain); Central British had C. Hosegood, N. Smith, W. Pryde, and T. Suiter. La Salle were represented by G. and J. December 10, at Causeway Bay at Scores: Gosano and Queen's College by 4 p.m.

Owen Hughes beat Lay with a beauty that went over the sticks and off which he must have been caught at the wicket had he touched it-he must have been very close to it. Pryde showed signs of aggression This perhaps is due to his lack of reach as he played much straighter when the ball was well up to him. A fear that unless a national sur-vey of England's open commons is made without delay their protection will be more and more difficult was expressed by Sir Lawrence Chubb.

Choruses

Prisoners in Pentonville are to have community singing and one day may broadcast as a choir.

Mr. T. P. Rateliff, the well-known community singing leader, has been invited by the Governor and the Chaplain to organise a weekly programme at the prison. The first "sing" will be shortly.

"I am hoping to organise three-part harmony in which everyone will join—tenor, baritone and bass," Mr. Rateliff said.

"MIKADO" CHORUSES

Hospital Clue Saves London From Anthrax

Working on a single clue, public health authorities have saved London from a possible epidemic of anthrax, deadly disease usually transmitted through animal hair.

He had been working on a consignment of Manchurian horse-hair bought three weeks before from a

Bermondsey firm. SUPPLY STOPPED

The Bermondsey dealers had ob-tained their supply from a City wholesaler. Specimens of the horse-hair were sent to the Ministry of Health pathological laboratory for examination.

A case of anthrax was diag-nosed in a man admitted to don, but every brush was recovered and destroyed.

Guy's Hospital sometime ago.
It was found that the man was a household brush-maker with a southwark firm.

At its next meeting, Southwark form Council will be urged to send a resolution to the Home Office recommending that no Manrecommending that no Man-churian horse-hair should be im-ported into this country, except through Liverpool, where it can be disinfected prior to distribution.

British Forces In N. China

London, Dec. 7. Particulars of the British naval and military forces in North China were given by Mr. R. A. Butler, Under-Secretary for Foreign Affairs, during question-time in the House of Commons to-day, when he said that military forces on November I were 37 officers and 855 other ranks. Foreign garrisons in North China were at the following strengths: United States 555, French 1,529, Italians 342.

The figures of the Japanese strength were not available. The figures included garrisons at Peiping, Tientsin and certain small detachments in their vicinity.

The disposition of the naval forces were at the discretion of the Com-mander-in-Chief, and allocation between North China and other parts of the station varied considerably throughout the year. On December , there were one British warship at Taku, one escort vessel at Tsingtao, and one cruiser at Weihalwei.

At present no foreign worships were in Chnese waters north of the Yangtse, except a number Japanese cruisers and destroyers .--Reuter.
